

Sometime ago the lady of one of those brave patriots who have suffered death on the scaffold by order of that old wretch Sir John Colborne, was forcibly dragged to the Police office by Lt. Comeau, and there compelled to answer under oath certain impertinent questions, in which the name of her unfortunate and heroic husband was not spared. After a long examination she was dismissed with the injunction that if she dared to speak against the British Government (although that same government had murdered her beloved husband,) she would be immediately secured and thrown into prison.

We beg leave to call the attention of our readers to the present condition of Canada contrasted with that of the United States, which will be found on the last page of this and the last number. We have copied the article from the Montreal Courier, a paper, which at times out-herods even the Herald in ultra Toryism. Had such sentiments and such language appeared in any liberal paper, the Editor would have been compelled to take lodgings in Her Majesty's Jail, sans ceremony. We look upon one inch of acknowledgement from our enemies as equal to a mile of arguments.

The Buffalo convict-ship arrived some few days ago at Quebec, with detachments of the Coldstream Guards and the 83d reg. It is said that 72 political prisoners from Montreal and 70 from Upper Canada will be transported by this ship to Van Dieman's Land. How many wives and children are thereby deprived of their support and left in the greatest misery. Such are the tender mercies of a young girl who rules by right divine.

It grieves us to learn that the patriotic Mr. Defaillette of Napierville, now in Montreal jail under sentence of death, is dangerously ill. It is not probable that he will survive the inhuman treatment he receives within the walls of that Pandemonium of misery. Mr. D. was always respected and beloved by his countrymen, and under any other circumstances, his death would be deeply regretted. In his present situation he would no doubt hail the grim messenger as a deliverer.

ONE HONORABLE TRAIT IN A PRIEST.—When Sir John Colborne arrived at Napierville, nearly 48 hours after the patriots had evacuated the place, he was informed that Mr. A. G. Morin was in the village severely wounded.—“Hang him immediately” was His Excellency's imperative command. The Catholic Priest, AMIOT, was present, and inveterate as he was against the patriots he turned pale at this brutal command. “Good God,” said he, “have the days of barbarism returned? Why put a Man to death without trial, and without giving him time to prepare to meet his Creator? It is worse than the Goths and the Vandals! Lord have mercy on us!”

Sir John, struck with the impolicy of the rash act, and finding himself so suddenly and boldly rebuked, at once recalled the order; and turning towards Amiot, he said: “Well he shall be taken to Montreal, and there he will stand a poor chance.”

Mr. Morin underwent a mock trial before an illegally constituted Court Martial and was condemned to death.

“SPIRIT OF '76.” Theller's Daily Republican Advocate is the title of a new paper which has just made its appearance at Detroit. It is edited by Dr. E. A. Theller the patriot General who escaped last year from Cape Diamond, the strongest fortress in America. We have every reason to believe that the “Spirit of '76” will prove a powerful auxiliary to the cause of the advocate. We have formed a very high opinion of Dr. Theller. He has won himself a character for boldness, noble living and enterprise.

Emigrants from Norway have arrived at the United States. It is said they will settle in Illinois.

A school boy in this village being asked by his teacher what was the principal employment of the people of Swanton?—very promptly answered—“talking politics, sir.”

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS.—On the night of the 8th inst., three prisoners confined in the jail in this village charged with robbing the mail between Kingston and Gananoque, sometime last spring, made their escape, assisted by some person or persons from without. —Watertown Paper.

DESSERTERS. Her Majesty's Volunteers stationed at Mississinoui Bay have of late shown us specimens of pretty tall walking. No less than six of them have arrived here within 48 hours. They say they have received only 25 cts. each since the 1st of May.

THE CONDEMNED PATRIOT.

Written by a young Canadian Patriot the Evening before his Execution.

Oh! must I die? and die so young; and now too, when the world has just begun to open to me in all its perspective beauty? Oh! it is hard, hard thus to die—to die an ignominious death upon the scaffold, my last moments to be embittered by the taunting jests and ribaldry of my enemies. Must I die thus?—I could have met death with fortitude upon the battle field, but to die the death of a felon; how dreadful the thought! I, who have indulged in the fond hope of writing my name high upon the scroll of fame, must I ere the consummation of the great design, die—die a felon's death? Oh! must I bid an eternal adieu to my aged and beloved mother? Yes it must be so. In vain did you, my mother, bow in humble supplication before the tyrant Colborne, to implore pardon for your only son. Yes, she bowed before him, and with her hands extended in supplication, cried in the wild accents of a mother's wailing—“Oh! spare, spare my only, my idolized son!” but in vain—she might as well implore pity of the famishing tiger. The monster spurned her from his feet. And must I leave her too, to whom I have breathed my vows of early love? her, whom I love with an attachment bordering on idolatry—with affection too pure, too intense too holy for this life?—Yes! For to-morrow I die.—Oh my God! How I sickened at the thought; my brain reels with a giddy dizziness, the cold sweat stands upon my brow; it seems like a horrible dream which haunts me like the incubus.—Oh, that I could be spared but for another day, to see her but once more; but vain, vain is each wish; the awful preparations are even now making for my execution, which speak of death as truly as yonder orb painting the western horizon with its golden hue, tells of departing day. But away with these thoughts, they serve but to unman me; I will be myself again; I will die as becomes a Canadian patriot! Yes,—I, who have fought the oppressors of my country, and who have never yet bowed the knee in humble submission to man, will show the murderer Colborne that though his chains and dungeons have impaired my frame, they have not broken my spirit. When yonder orb shall have made another revolution, this form will be cold & inanimate clay; but my name shall live in the breasts of my countrymen, and will incite them to revenge my death and that of my fellow-sufferers; and my memory will be revered by posterity, whilst the name of the barbarous Colborne will be remembered only to be execrated.

THE CASE OF HOLMES.—The decision of the Court has arrived. The order is, that the prisoner be remanded into the custody of the Sheriff, which is, in effect, ordering his surrender to the Canadian authorities. The order is not to be entered by the Clerk till the 30th inst.—the object of the delay being to give time to the Counsel for Holmes to obtain a Writ of error to the U. S. Circuit Court, if they choose.

Chief Justice Williams did not sit in the case, and Judge Bennett, we are informed, dissented from the decision.—Vt. Patriot.

COUNTERFEIT—St. Albans Bank.—The New York Star states that there is a new gang of counterfeiters in that city. An intercepted letter from a person professing to reside in the neighborhood of Peck Slip, was sent to the police office from a gentleman at Waterbury, Conn., to whom it was directed by mistake. It contained $100 in spurious bills of the St. Albans Bank, Vt., of which a great number are in circulation, and offered, for $27 (good money,) to furnish $300 more of the same merchandise.

THE REV. MICHAEL GILBRIDE, Roman Catholic Missionary at Carthage, has elicited from Governor Seward some very useful hints to District Attorneys, Sheriffs, &c., relative to attempts by them to please parties by petty exhibitions of political or rather religious intolerance. The rev. gentleman has shewn himself a man of spirit and principle, and ready to contend for justice and equal rights even to the condemned criminal. We are glad to see a Governor of this state endeavoring to avoid that partiality which would nullify the law of Congress to naturalized citizens.—Mackenzie's Gazette.

About nine months since, a gentleman, calling himself Mr. Chas. Villard or Moss, (and professing to be a Canadian patriot, but afterwards denounced by Mackenzie and others as a suspicious character,) induced a lad about 15 years old (Moses Conklin) to accompany him to St. Albans, Vt., under promise of educating and employing him. His mother, a widow, is very anxious to hear of or from her son; and to get him home if not doing well. Any information from or about him addressed to the Beacon, New York city, will reach and oblige his anxious mother, who has recently written to him, addressed “Moses Conklin, St. Albans, Vt.” but has yet received no answer.

Any information respecting the lad will be thankfully received at this office.

Highly Important!

Nervous diseases, liver complaint, dyspepsia, bilious diseases, piles, rheumatism, consumption, coughs, colds, spitting of blood, pain in the chest and side, ulcers, female weakness, all delicate and mercurial diseases are successfully treated at Dr. EVANS' Medical Office, 100 Chatham street New York.

Dr. EVANS'

Camomile & Aperient Pills.

ON LOW SPIRITS.—Low spirits is a certain state of the mind, accompanied by indigestion wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest ground, and the worst consequences imagined. Ancient Medical writers supposed this disease to be confined to those particular regions of the abdomen, technically called hypochondria, which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochondriasis.

SYMPTOMS.

The common corporal symptoms are, flatulency in the stomach or bowels, acid eructations, costiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness, dimness of sight, palpitations, and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage. Also languidness—the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful, desponding, melancholy, and dejected, accompanied with a total derangement of the nervous system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgment exhibit an infinite diversity. The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest.

CAUSES.

A sedentary life of any kind, especially severe study protracted to a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise, a dissolute habit, great excess in eating and drinking, the immoderate use of mercury, violent purgatives, the suppression of some habitual discharge, (as the obstruction of the menses,) or long continued eruptions; relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within the abdomen, is a frequent cause.

TREATMENT.

The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion, to strengthen the body and to enliven the spirits, which may be promoted by exercise, regular hours, regular meals, and pleasant conversation. The bowels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient. We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr. Wm. Evans' Aperient Pills—being mild and certain in their operation. The bowels being once cleansed, his inestimable Camomile Pills, (which are tonic, anodyne, and anti-spasmodic,) are an infallible remedy, and without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public.

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury, but it should not be resorted to; as in many cases it will greatly aggravate the symptoms.

The above invaluable medicines, together with Dr. Hunt's Botanic Pills; Dr. Goode's celebrated Female Pills; Dr. Evans' Fever & Ague Pills; Dr. Evans' Soothing Syrup for Teething, are entered according to act of Congress, and the right to prepare them has been secured and are vended at 100 Chatham Street, New York, and by the regular appointed Agents.
